

The Peerless Type Endures

Peerless
All That The Name Implies

THE changes in the new Peerless Models are changes in degree rather than kind. The principles of Peerless construction endure—they have simply been carried further. The result is larger tonneau; longer wheel base; the long springs of last year still longer and flattened, making the car ride easier.

A double ignition system is used, with the advantage that one system may be used independently of the other.

Silico Manganese steel in all driving parts.

Write for our 1908 Catalogue (N) which fully describes and illustrates the Peerless Models.
