Life holds many big days.
Two stand out prominently—
the day a man marries and the day he buys an automobile.

There is one car that ends the day of pleasure as it began it—perfectly. . . . The MAXWELL is too well known to emphasize its power, economy, comfort, reliability, prestige. . . . This is merely a reminder that here is an automobile that in price and construction has met the test that time and service demanded of it.

Perfectly Simple - Simply Perfect
