if one could only make up one's own car! If one could combine the acceleration of that sports model with the silky silence of the town limousine. If one could have the brakes from this car and the suspension from that! One day you'll try the Lincoln. Then you'll find that it has been done. Lincoln acceleration is instantaneous as a flash, yet silent as a shadow. The mechanical 6-brake system pulls the car up from speed in distances literally astounding; while Lincoln suspension is the experienced motorist's standard of excellence in three continents.

Chassis Price - £980.
