The 2-Door Sedan, $745 • Body by Fisher

New Power for the country road New Style for the city boulevard

ON BACK ROADS of gravel or gumbo you'll find today's Pontiac Six more powerful than ever and capable of conquering the steepest hills or the stickiest mud. On paved highways leading to town you'll find its greater speed cutting down your driving time. On any trip you'll find its greater economy reducing fuel expense. And on country roads or city boulevards you'll find its greater beauty filling you with justifiable pride.

For once more Oakland has improved this sturdy, dependable six. A new, larger, more highly perfect carburetor — new manifolding — and new distributor design . . . these are the mechanical advancements which make it faster, more economical, more powerful than ever before. Smarter, smaller wheels and larger tires add to its riding ease and increase the rakish beauty of its Fisher bodies. And even with its finer performance and greater beauty it continues to sell for as little as $745.

Today's Pontiac Six surpasses even its famous predecessors in providing those qualities so important to families on the farm. Take your family with you to inspect and drive it on your next trip into town.
