The New Series Pontiac Six is scoring a sensational success not merely because it provides thrilling new qualities of six-cylinder performance and numerous great new features of design—but also because this finer, faster General Motors Six is the lowest priced Six with Body by Fisher!

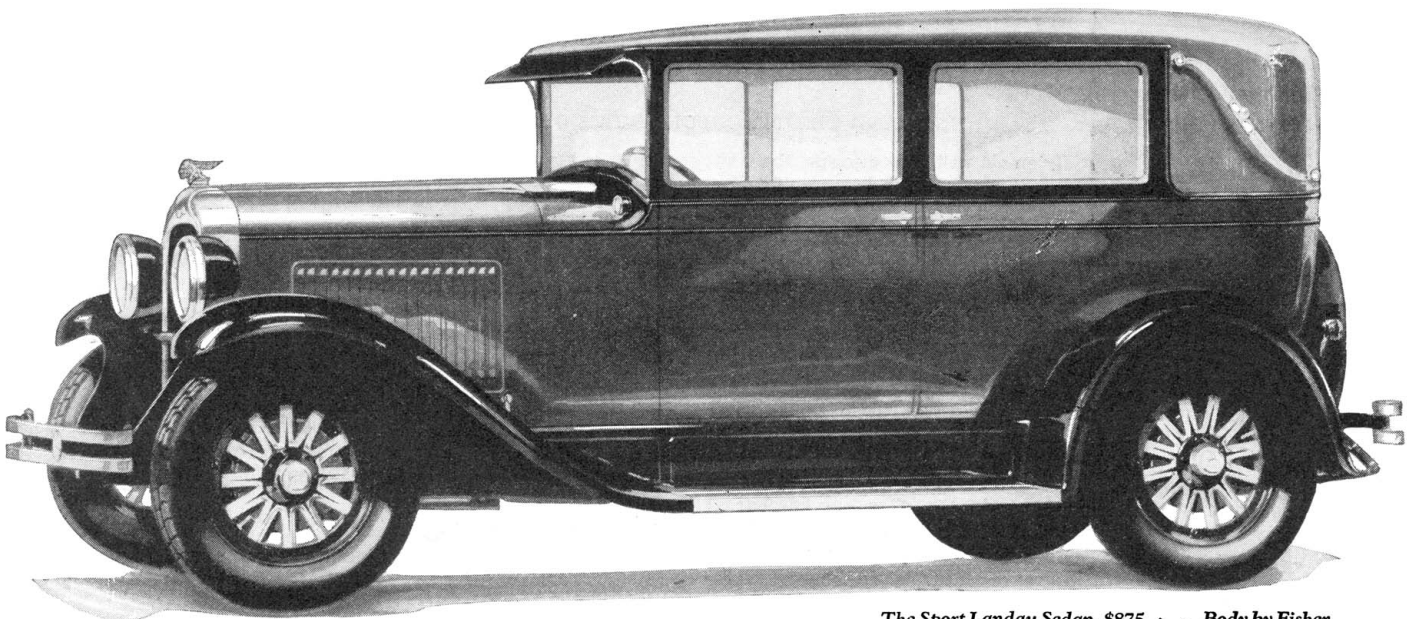

Already it has won a prominent place among the style leaders of the year—because of the arresting and ultra-smart beauty created by its higher, narrower radiator, sweeping crown fenders, inset lamps and long, low, rakish lines.

Already it is generally agreed that no other six of comparable price offers such pronounced supremacies in coachwork—for on the bodies of the New Series Pontiac Six has been lavished all the mastery in design and construction for which Fisher craftsmen are internationally famous.

Built of selected hardwood and steel, finished in modish new combinations of genuine Duco, offering rich new upholsteries and smart appointments, these new Fisher bodies give the New Series Pontiac Six an exclusive claim to value leadership—more pronounced today than ever before!
