The natural impulse and instinct of most progressive and ambitious Americans is to own and drive a car by Cadillac. They usually have the feeling that the stamp of Cadillac means the removal of the last motoring doubt—the purchase of endless hours and miles of the most flawless travel attainable. It is wise and safe to follow an instinct so strong and deep-rooted, so natural and impulsive. Such judgments on the part of great groups of people are to be trusted. This is especially true now that the privilege and pride of Cadillac ownership are possible at the lowest prices in more than two decades. The satisfaction of rising above the rank and file of the best of motor cars is yours, now, at figures which make the Royal Family of Motordom the paramount value of the time and the year.
