

Did you expect anything less from The Leader?

Anything less than an astonishingly beautiful sports car seven inches longer and nearly two inches lower, with windshield wipers concealed by a power-operated cowl, rear deck spoiler and high-backed bucket seats. Anything less than Astro Ventilation, a new air-intake and pressure-relief system.

Anything less than four-wheel disc brakes and fully independent suspension.

Anything less than V8s you order up to 435 hp. Anything less than new security features like side marker lights and many more.

The '68 Corvette Sting Ray.
